About Our Company

We are one of the most trusted digital technology partners for AEC & D&M companies in the APAC region. Our team boasts an impressive array of certifications, and our extensive experience means we can provide the most insightful advice and solutions to meet your unique needs.

We have a long history of successfully delivering technology solutions to a wide range of industries. Our satisfied customers can attest to our commitment to excellence and customer satisfaction. Cadgroup customers value license consolidation, bundled solutions, and reliability of the best technical support in the market – resulting in software cost saves while narrowing external support and services.

Servicing Australia and New Zealand customers for over three decades, Cadgroup's technical knowledge is built on delivering cutting edge solutions that empower our customers to make decisions earlier and with confidence.

Mission Statement

To be the premier partner by delivering exceptional services, ensuring customer success, and building strong client partnerships.
